Worms! Worms! Worms

1000 DOLLARS

Has been offered for a medicine that should exceed

DR. HOBENSACK'S

Worm Syrup and Liver Pills.

In the destruction of worms, and the cure of all worm complaints troubled with these Pests of the Human System.

The Doctor has spent much time in the perfecting of these Medicines, and how well he has succeeded may be inferred from the work which celebrity they have obtained, and the fact that they carry away masses of worms, and effect more marvellous cures after all other remedies have failed.

D. J. HOBENSACK'S

Worm Syrup and Liver Pills.

PROBABLY one reason why Worm Medicines so frequently fail of any good effects, is the fact that they contain no quail ties except as Worm Killers. Consequently in many instances where no mistake the symptoms of disease and doctor for worms, when the cause of disease is not worms, but in derangement of the system and consequent debility and ill health, a good result follows, whereas, in the use of Dr. Hobensack's medicine, it being an active vermicidal agent, as well as worm killer, the patient immediately gets well, though no worms are brought away.

Thus it will be readily seen that it possesses many calls to action over other worm medicines, as it is not only sure to kill and bring away the worms but builds up and restores the patient to sound health besides.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

Many person suffer severely by sore or weak eyes. The reflection by the sun on the snow almost blinds them; their eyes water, when they are exposed to a slight wind, or have to travel or ride in the open air, a strong light blinds them, they suffer a smarting, burning sensation, as if dust was thrown in the eyes, they are unable to read or write by gas or lamp light. All these troubles can usually be remedied by the use of Dr. Pettit's American Eye Salve!

Rev. G. B. M. Woodward, writes: GOGGLES and GLASSES, my companions for eighteen years, have been laid aside, I meet all the storms of winter and heat of summer with the naked eye.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE, for March, received by E. F. DUREN.

The Grand Trunk Railway, Canada.

The London Illustrated News of January 22d contains an article upon the above railway, which we deem of sufficient interest to warrant a republication in our columns. The line here described has become a favorite one for travellers seeking the best route from Maine to the great west, while the unsurpassed natural scenery of the region made it delightful, long before roads were dreamed of.

Captain William Flowers, of this city, a gentleman well known to the traveling public, is agent for this section. His advertisement, stating fares, local agencies, &c., may be found in another column.

Fifteen years ago the project of a railway from Portland, in the state of Maine, to Montreal, in Canada, was talked of among a few of the enterprising inhabitants of both cities. The matter was discussed in public and private meetings were held, and it was determined that the road should be built. Outside the sections directly interested, there arose a strong opposition, and every means were used to defeat the undertaking. But in spite of all discouragements the railway was built, and at St. Lawrence river in Canada, was united by iron bands with the Atlantic Ocean at Portland. From this a comparatively short distance, there has arisen the most scientific railway enterprise in the world. The most remarkable of its supporters at the commencement could not have anticipated its present greatness. Under one company and one board of managers, there are nearly one thousand miles of railway, admirably constructed, fully equipped, and running regularly through the heart of Canada, having on ocean terminus with a great depth of water, and many of excellent harbors at all seasons of the year; and the day is not far distant, when the Pacific Ocean will be connected with the Atlantic by the road, making it the great highway from the East Indies, China and Japan.

We invite our readers to accompany us on a trip through Canada by the Grand Trunk Railway, commencing at Portland. The station at Portland we find, to be a large and substantial edifice, and finely fitted up. We have no passenger checked through to Quebec, obtain refreshments and take seats in the luxurious first class carriages provided for the occasion. Previous to the moment a start is given, and we are on our way. Onward we go, leaving behind a finely cultivated country, dotted with villages. In a few hours the scene changes. Before us lies a wide range of forty mountains; two hours more through forests at their base, and we enter, and emerge from the western borders. It is now night, the evening conspires to shroud us in its sombre mantle, and we retire to our berths. At four P. M. we reach Richmond, in Canada, 250 miles from Portland. At this point we change cars for Quebec, reaching Point Levi, directly opposite that city, in two hours. A ferry-boat is waiting to convey us across the St. Lawrence, and in a few moments we are safely landed at Gilbert's Hotel, one of the finest in America. Quebec is the only walled city, and one of the most interesting in North America; its natural strength, rich historical associations, and delightful scenery combine to render it a place of the highest attractions to the visitor. The Plains of Abraham, where the gallant Wolfe fell; the citadel, with its bristling cannon; Durham Terrace, with a charming panoramic view; a drive to the Falls of Montmorenci, six miles distant; together with the narrow streets, the picturesque costume of the French habitans, and the old religious buildings, interest many regard to this the ancient capital of Canada. From Quebec the Grand Trunk Railway extends down the St. Lawrence to St. Thomas, thirty miles. Here, at the common season it will be opened to River de Loup, 124 miles below Quebec; from thence to continue on, forming a connection with the Intercolonial railway from Halifax, in Nova Scotia, and thus obviating a much-needed communication with that province and New Brunswick.

Quebec, with a population of 65,000 inhabitants, is a place of much commercial importance. Immense quantities of timber—pine, oak, and elm—are shipped from this port; from 1,500 to 2,500 vessels are sent on loan for Europe, a large number of emigrants, seeking a home in the New World, land here; in 1857, as many as 32,000. The Canadian Government has an agent to receive them on their arrival, to give them all the information they need, and to protect them from imposition. The Grand Trunk Railway has adopted an admirable plan of passing through quarantine, and others from any part in Europe to any point in North America, via the St. Lawrence or Portland and their railways.

From Quebec we will visit Montreal. In five hours after leaving the former city we are landed at Longueil, directly opposite Montreal, 172 miles from Quebec. We here cross the river by a ferry-boat.

Montreal, the great commercial city of Canada, is situated on an island (bearing the same name), which is thirty-two miles long, and in its broadest part about fifteen. The scenery is remarkably rich, and under the highest state of cultivation. The city itself is finely situated upon the St. Lawrence river, its buildings are of a most substantial character, built principally of granite, some of the public edifices are magnificent, rivaling most of the finest buildings in America. The Cathedral of Notre Dame, a French Catholic church, is a beautiful edifice, capable of seating 10,000 worshippers; and the market and court-houses are as conspicuous and elegant. The population of Montreal is 76,000; here the Grand Trunk Railway has its head offices for America. The Victoria Bridge crosses the St. Lawrence about half a mile to the westward of Montreal. This city is the terminal point of ocean navigation on the one hand, and of the great Canadian and American lakes (extending two thousand miles into the heart of the continent) on the other. From this centre, too, lines of railway radiate to Portland, Boston and New York; while it is prepared to extend lines from Ottawa and other rich districts of Canada.

It was soon seen that unless a bridge was erected across the St. Lawrence, the great and comprehensive plans of the Grand Trunk Railway Company would not be carried out, and the immense traffic from the far west, (which upon completion of this bridge, will find its way in this direction as a natural channel to the seaboard,) would otherwise be diverted and cross into the United States at other points.

The Victoria Bridge will, when completed, be the longest bridge in the world in length from bank to bank being very nearly two miles. It is tubular and is built on the principle of the Britannia Bridge across the Menai Straits. The Menai Bridge is 1,869 feet long. The Victoria Bridge, therefore nearly five and a half times longer. Waterloo Bridge, London, 1,360 feet long, the Londonderry Bridge more than seven and a half times its length. The Victoria Bridge crosses the St. Lawrence half a mile to the westward of Montreal. There will be twenty-four piers, which, with the two abutments, will leave twenty-five spaces for the tubes. Those resting upon the 330 feet wide—the tubes 242 feet. The width of each of the piers, except at the centre, will be 16 feet, the centre pier will be 18 feet wide. The stone used in construction of the piers and abutments is a coarse limestone, none of which each pier will contain from 6,000 to 8,000 tons each. The total amount of masonry in the bridge will be about 300,000 cubic feet, which at 13 1-2 lbs. per cubic foot, gives a total weight of about 2,250,000 tons. Hence a weight of 2,000 tons, the piers are calculated to weight, will be one at exposed to the force of the floating ice weighing fifty tons. The flanks of the bridge, together not only by the stone, but by massive iron work, bored through these stones to each block—their ends between the first and the stone being filled with melted lead.

At the present time all but three of the twenty-four piers are reported to be finished. Of the last seven, the progress is as follows: Nine courses are finished on pier No. 19, the last seven courses are in progress at the time at the present writing, pier No. 20 is the one next to the Victoria Tubular Bridge, and is the highest of the series, being seventy two feet above the level of the water. Pier No. 21 is finished to the height of 630 feet above the level of the water, and is the highest pier in the whole work. Twenty days average, eight hours a day.

It is expected that the last stone will be laid in the centre tube on the 15th of October next, and the last section of the tube will be floated into its position on or before the 1st of December next. Four locomotive engines, of 30 horse power each, and seventy two cars (manufactured by 330 hands), and 400 men, are at work daily, twenty days average, eight hours a day.

It is anticipated that the Victoria Bridge will be finished for the passage of the first train of cars through it on the 1st of January, 1860, at which time it will be formally opened for public traffic. The Victoria Bridge, when completed, will be the first structure of the kind ever attempted, and will be the only bridge across the St. Lawrence for 1,000 miles, or from the Atlantic to the Rocky Mountains. Mr. W. H. Russell, Robert Stephenson, and Mr. Brunel were the engineers of the great work, the former having been engaged in the construction of the Victoria Bridge, and the latter having planned the Britannia Bridge, which is the only other bridge of the kind in existence. The cost of the bridge will be about £1,200,000. The contract for the completion of the bridge was let for £1,000,000, but unforeseen accidents and delays will add to the cost, and the amount of the bridge will be about £1,200,000. The next point of interest in the province of Canada is Toronto, the capital of Upper Canada, and the seat of government in Canada West. It is situated on Lake Ontario, and is a handsome city, and contains about 50,000 inhabitants. It is the seat of the Provincial Parliament, and is the capital of the province.

From Montreal we were we pass on our way a short distance from that city to St. Anne's, memorable as the birthplace of Moore, the poet. At the point where the river is narrowest, it is about a mile wide, and is crossed by a ferry boat, which plies between the two shores. The ferry boat is a large, flat-bottomed boat, with a deck, and is capable of carrying a large number of passengers and horses. The ferry boat is propelled by a steam engine, and is capable of making the passage in about ten minutes.

The Legislature has authorized the Governor to draw on the Treasury of the State for $100,000 for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of the act for the better protection of the State. The Governor has not yet drawn the money, but it is supposed that he will do so when the Legislature shall have adjourned.

The Rush for the Western Gold Mines.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Times who has just returned from Kansas, says the towns in Kansas and Nebraska are now crowded with strangers of every nation, tribe and people, wandering about with a forlorn look, bearing a hoe on their shoulders, and making inquiries in regard to routes to the mines, outfits, &c. All the hotels are crowded to repletion, and every Western train and steamboat is filled with people. Trains are now starting daily for every important town on the Missouri river in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri. While travelling five or six miles on the great Military Road leading from Fort Leavenworth to Fort Lurton, on Platte river, last week, I met four trains en route for the mines. In two of them the wagons were drawn by mules and oxen, in the third eight men were attached to a hand cart, which contained their outfits and was so constructed as to float over the streams. They designed to follow it the whole distance—700 miles to Pike's Peak. The fourth was composed entirely of pedestrians with their packs upon their shoulders.

Cuba and the Slave Trade.—The New York Journal of Commerce pays its correspondent Brown's speech at Tammany Hall. They think it has very much distracted the attention of Senator Toombs from the proposition that Cuba was wanted for the extension of slavery. They are opposed to it for the reasons assigned, but they seem to think that they will take Cuba in their own way—of course, the readers will perceive that they want Cuba annexed for the purpose of uniting an end to the African slave trade, just as they do not like the idea that they wanted the Missouri compromise repealed in order to make free states south of the compromise line. But as the great object now is to get Brown and indiscriminately abuse it, right out in meeting.

This paper now have no other alternative but to say, that to make an issue with Mr. Brown will show that he does not understand the subject at all. It is possible that he is afraid of it, but it must not be supposed that the question of Cuba would enhance the cause of slavery in the slightest degree. On the contrary they view it as a great measure to extend the area of freedom, and will resist in defending it on that ground. Senator Brown to the contrary notwithstanding.

In view, then, of the African slave trade to be effected by the annexation of Cuba, the only important fact to be ascertained is the successful carrying on of the trade in Cuba, whether she be going to join the United States, or be in danger of coming under the control of Africa, and upon that ground alone. Will that difficulty be increased by the annexation of Cuba to the United States? Is slave trade to Cuba can only be successfully carried on now upon the high seas, and the protection of the American flag, for no other nation has adopted upon it the severe penalties, for every slave on board any vessel, slaughtered under the American flag, except the nation upon the high seas, after the next month of Cuba, can only be one?

So far as the landing of the cargo upon the coast of Cuba, the chief difficulty appears to be the vigilance of the officers of the British fleet, which will be increased by bringing Cuba under the jurisdiction of the British fleet.—Welsh Republican.

This Lesson will Shorten Dickson's Legs.—Mr. Dickson, the colored barber who was arrested on the charge of insulting a young lady in the street, was brought before the Police Court on Monday morning, and was fined $5 and costs. Mr. Dickson's counsel, Mr. Bowditch, made a very able defence of his client, and was very severe upon the complainant, Officer Sloan, for arresting Dickson for the offence charged. Mr. Dickson stood in the dock, and when the fine was imposed, he turned to the audience, and said, with a very significant look, "Now you see what you get for insulting a colored gentleman."—Boston Post.

Mr. Dickson, I am surprised at you. Don't you know that it is wicked to swear?

Yes, sir, I know it is wicked to swear, but I was provoked to it by the insult offered me by the officer.

Why, you should have complained to the Mayor, and not have sworn at all.

Well, I did complain to the Mayor, and he fined me five dollars and costs, and I swore because I had to pay the money.

Now, Mr. Dickson, I am sorry for you. Don't you know that it is wicked to swear? Don't you know that you will be punished for it in the next world?

No, sir, I don't think so. I think I was punished enough in this world.

Well, I am sorry for you. I fear you will go to the bad place.

Yes, sir, I know I will go to the bad place

LINCOLN'S WATER PROOF BLACKING,

AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE

Keep your feet dry and you will not need a Physician.

It is a truth that when leather is rendered soft and pliable by the use of Lincoln's Blacking, it will not crack, and is then more than twice as durable as when hard and stiff, and for this reason alone it is the best water proof blacking ever offered, preventing the cracking and consequent ruin of leather, which is caused by the use of all other blackings.

Sold by Dealers in all parts of the country.

American Safety Paper Manufacturing Company of N. Y.

Capital $500,000.

A Nicholas, President Office 70 Wall st

A Perfect Security against all manner of Fraud or Counterfeiting on Paper—To Prevent Photographic and Autotype Counterfeits, Fraudulent Erasures or Alterations.

THE UNDERSIGNED purchased the Patent for the exclusive right to manufacture and sell the Chemical Paper in America, invented and patented in England by HENRY GASKELL, a celebrated chemist and officer in the British Army, so it hardly is necessary to say that the Paper is recommended by Mr. Kent, Assayer of the U. S. Mint, Mr. Lyman of the New York Clearing House and Meade Brothers, extensive and skillful photographers on Broadway N. Y. The latter say that no matter what can be made on a check or bank note, printed on this Safety Paper. Below is our list of prices:

Bank Checks—35 cts per lb
Bank Bills—$18 for 10 reams
Bills of Exchange—$26 for 1000 sheets
Promissory Notes—40 cts per lb
Sight Drafts and Drafts—$26 for 1000 sheets
Letter & Policies—40 cts per lb
Bank Letter Heads and Bonds—40 cts per lb
Bank Bills, Stocks—40 cts per lb
Bonds and Mortgages—40 cts per lb
Wills and Deeds—40 cts per lb

In ordering the above articles it is only necessary to state the number of the list of prices.

All Deed and County Records should always be printed on or written on this paper as the chemicals used to make it do not only prevents erasure or transfer but preserves the writing.

For quality and texture this paper cannot be excelled, and for the cheapness of the article it will destroy it,—the properties in using it simply being a preventive.

In all the Southern States, Cuba, the West Indies and the Central American States no public records are kept for over 20 years written on the ordinary paper will last to ages and other chemicals inserted into it render it indestructible by the various acids. It is also proof against moisture, rats mice or other vermin which feast on and destroy all other paper now in use.

If the above named company with capital of about 300 horse power will undertake to fill all orders for paper at the shortest notice.

Also manufacture Paper to the addressed to A. NICHOLAS, President of the Company, No 70 Wall Street, New York.

AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON.

In the large and most best arranged Hotel in the New England States. Its central location, its ease of access from all the routes of travel, its contents and its modern improvements in every department for the comfort and accommodation of that class of the community who travel for business or pleasure, and its moderate charges, have long rendered it a favorite resort with the travelling community. Having just completed a large addition to the House, and also refitted and refurnished the whole, I am enabled to offer to the public the best accommodations of any House in the city. The location is pleasant, and within a few minutes walk of the Public Gardens, Common, Museum, Music Hall, Theatres, Churches, Banks, Insurance Offices, Reading Rooms, Post Office, and the principal Wholesale Stores. Horse Cars pass the door every few minutes, to all parts of the city. Carriages will be in attendance on the arrival of all trains and boats, free of charge.
